A Soldier's Soldier

A Biography of Lieutenant General Sir Thomas Daly

By Jeffrey Grey, University of New South Wales

Lieutenant-General Sir Thomas Daly was a renowned soldier and one of the most influential figures in Australia's military history. As Chief of the General staff during the Vietnam War, he oversaw a significant reorganisation of the Army as he fought a war under political and resource restrictions. In this unique biography, Jeffrey Grey shows how Daly prepared himself for the challenges of command in a time of great political upheaval.

A Soldier's Soldier examines Daly's career from his entry to Duntroon in the early 1930s until his retirement forty years later, covering the key issues in the development of the Australian Army along the way. Drawing on extensive interview transcripts, the book provides a compelling portrait of Sir Thomas Daly and his distinguished career.

Anzacs in the Middle East

Australian soldiers, their allies and the local people in World War II

By Mark Johnston, Scotch College, Melbourne

Anzacs in the Middle East is a compelling exploration of the experiences of soldiers who fought in the Middle East during World War II. Spurred by a sense of adventure and duty, they set sail to countries of which they knew very little. The book examines the relationships between Australians and their allies and also how they related to the local people: Greeks, Egyptians, Syrians, Lebanese and Palestinians. Mark Johnston draws on extensive research to provide a new perspective on the famous campaigns at Tobruk and Alamein, as well as significant but less familiar battles at Bardia, Retimo and Damascus. This book is a companion volume to Mark Johnston's previous books, At the Front Line and Fighting the Enemy.

Featuring first-hand accounts and stories from the front line, the book discovers the true nature of the 'larrikin Australian' and is a must-read for anyone interested in Australia's military history.

Australia 1942

In the Shadow of War

Edited by Peter Dean, Foreword by Kim Beazley

In 1942, the shadow of modern war reached Australia's shores for the first time. In this compelling volume, leading historians explore why 1942 was such a pivotal year in Australia's history and explain how the nation confronted some of its greatest challenges. This broad ranging study covers key issues from political, economic and home front reform to the establishment of a new partnership with the United States; the role of the Air Force and the Navy; the bombing of Darwin; as well as the battles of Kokoda, Milne Bay, the Beachheads and Guadalcanal.

Australia 1942 provides a unique and in-depth exploration of the controversy surrounding the potential for invasion. Japanese and Australian historians offer perspectives on Japanese military intentions and strategies towards Australia and the South Pacific. Generously illustrated, it is essential reading for anyone interested in one of Australia's most decisive and critical years.

Paul the Apostle

His Life and Legacy in Their Roman Context

by J. Albert Harrill, Ohio State University

This book is a controversial new biography of the apostle Paul. It first provides a critical reassessment of the apostle's life in its historical context. It then considers the legend that developed around Paul as the history of his life was elaborated and embellished by later interpreters, arguing that the rewriting of Paul's history into legend makes him a key transformative figure of classical antiquity.
